The Malaysian Journal of Health Sciences

Dear Editor-in-Chief,

On behalf of my co-authors, I am pleased to submit our new article entitled “A Review on Diabetes Apps: Features, Limitations, and Improvement Suggestions” to The Malaysian Journal of Health Sciences for possible publication. This manuscript provides a detailed scoping review of mobile applications (apps) used for managing type 2 diabetes mellitus (T2DM), highlighting key features, existing limitations, and offering suggestions for improving app development.

Given the rapid growth of mobile app technologies, we believe that our findings will contribute meaningfully to advancing diabetes care through app-based solutions. This article should be of interest to healthcare professionals, policymakers, and developers focusing on T2DM management and mobile technology.

We confirm that this manuscript is original, has not been published previously, and is not under consideration elsewhere. All authors have contributed significantly to the work, as indicated in the attached authorship agreement form, and approve its submission. Ethical guidelines, including informed consent and adherence to the Helsinki Declaration, have been followed.

Thank you for considering our submission. We look forward to your feedback and hope that our manuscript will be suitable for publication in The Malaysian Journal of Health Sciences.

Sincerely,

Dr Tuan Mazlelaa Tuan Mahmood
